TECH TIP: Quickly find anything on your computer

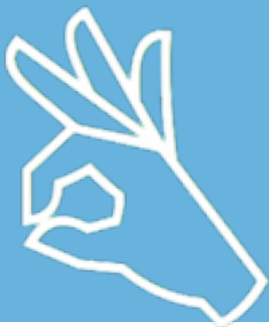

Sometimes it is easy to forget where you saved a certain file on your computer. If you are able to recall the file's name you can start a search by typing the file name in the Windows 7 search field. The search field is located in the start menu, you can access it by clicking the Windows icon, usually in the bottom left of the computer screen. Your computer will then list files related to your search.

I told my fans online how I hated my squeaky office chair. One day, a fan sent me a new chair. It was crazy! I still use the chair today. Pretty awesome.
